My experience at UniTO

John Dumay
Associate professor of Accounting at Macquarie University, Australia

During the teaching, I used leading-edge research and practical examples to foster critical debate about corporate reporting. It helped to build my teaching material which I am constantly revising to keep it up to date as possible.

My greatest achievement is to get feedback from the students on my ideas and gauge how it is accepted so that I can refine these ideas and use them in future publications and teaching.

Teaching here is great because it gives international recognition to my teaching and research agenda and puts me in contact with new colleagues who will become my future research colleagues and co-authors.

Discover more about my activity