My experience at UniTO

Daniel Serge Meier
Research associate in political science at CNRS Pacte, Sciences Po Grenoble

The most important aspect of my teaching was the fruitful daily interactions I had with the students in debating papers they had to read and analyse. More than a classical professor-student relationship, it provides with more incentives to build together knowledge in raising questions and issues around various themes related to the topic of the lecture.

Discover more about my activity